Florida Jet Awarded ARG/US Platinum Rating

Fort Lauderdale, Florida (November 7, 2006) – Florida Jet Service, a premier aircraft charter provider, announced today that they have been awarded a platinum rating by ARG/US (Aviation Research Group/U.S.). It is the highest level awarded to Part 135 charter operators by the independent auditor, and only 50 of 900 (6%) of those audited achieve platinum status.

The Platinum Rating is earned by operators who have established an excellent safety history, maintain well qualified pilots and equipment as evidenced by accurate records and have sound maintenance and operational practices. In addition, platinum level operators undergo ARG/US onsite safety audits to achieve and maintain their rating.

“We are pleased to be one of the select operators awarded ARG/US Platinum Rating,” said Terry Robertson, President of Florida Jet Service. “Safety is always our first priority. Combine that with unsurpassed customer satisfaction, and Florida Jet provides a service I am truly proud of.”

Florida Jet is also audited annually by Wyvern, a provider of aviation safety auditing, consulting and information services, as well as two other private companies.
